FOREWORD

Despite the lapse of several years since Shaykh Anwar al-Awlaki - may Allāh accept him as a martyr - released this fatwā, it remains relevant in the lives of Muslims today. Al-Hamdulillāh, the fronts of Jihād have continued to blossom and expand into the lands once governed by the Book of Allāh and the Sunnah of His Messenger ﷺ. Along with this blessed expansion, the numbers of Mujāhidīn, their families, and widows and orphans of the martyrs have grown exponentially. Likewise, has the increasing need for modern weaponry and equipment to combat the expanding coalition(s) of disbelieving parties and nations. All of these things require vast amounts of provisions.

In line with this, Shaykh Anwar said in his ‘44 Ways of Supporting Jihād’; “The financial Jihād has preceded the physical Jihād in every verse except one. This is to point out to us the importance of the Jihād of wealth because Jihād depends on it. In other words, no money no Jihād, and Jihād needs lots of it. That is why, according to al-Qurtubī in his tafsīr, he states that “The reward for money given as Sadaqah is multiplied by ten, but the reward for money spent in Jihād is multiplied by 700!

Allāh says,

﴿مَثَلُ الَّذِينَ يُنْفِقُونَ أَمْوَالَهُمْ فِي سَبِيلِ اللَّهِ كَمَثَلِ حَبَّةٍ أَنْبَتَتْ سَبْعَ سَنَابِلَ فِي كُلِّ سُنبُلَةٍ مِائَةُ حَبَّةٍ ۗ وَاللَّهُ يُضَاعِفُ لِمَنْ يَشَاءُ﴾

﴿The example of those who spend their wealth in the way of Allah is like a seed which grows seven spikes; in each spike is a hundred grains. And Allah multiplies [His reward] for whom He wills¹

Probably the most important contribution the Muslims of the West could do for Jihād is making Jihād with their wealth since in many cases the Mujāhidīn are in need of money more than they are in need of men...²

The Shaykh then went on to mention a further seven ways to support Jihād - all of which connected to spending:

- Fundraising for the Mujāhidīn
- Financing a *Mujāhid*³
- Taking care of the family of a *Mujāhid*⁴
- Sponsoring the family of a Shahīd (martyr)
- Sponsoring the families of the prisoners of war⁵
- Paying your Zakāh to the Mujāhidīn

² However, it should be remembered that by a Muslim performing Jihād with his or her wealth, it does not exempt them from physical Jihād, or any of its other forms, for the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ commanded the believers,

جاهدوا المشركين بأموالكم وأنفسكم وألسنتكم

“Fight the polytheists with your wealth, arms, and tongues,” (An-Nasā’ī, Ahmad, Abū Dawūd, and al-Hākim).

³ Ibn al-Mubārak and ibn Abī Shaybah record that ‘Abdullāh Ibn Mas’ūd said, “For me to equip a fighter with a whip is better to me than making Hajj.”

⁴ In the Sahīh’s of al-Bukhārī and Muslim they record that the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said,

من جهز غازياً في سبيل الله فقد غزا، ومن خلف غازياً في أهله بخير فقد غزا

“Whoever provides for a fighter in the cause of Allāh has actually fought, and whoever takes care of the family of a fighter has actually fought.”

⁵ Ibn an-Nuhās relates from ibn ‘Asākir, that ‘Umar bin ‘Abd al-‘Azīz sent a letter to the Muslim prisoners of war in Constantinople. He told them, “You consider yourselves to be prisoners of war. We seek refuge in Allāh, for you are not! You are captives in the cause of Allāh. I would like you to know that whenever I give something to the Muslims I give more to your families, and I am sending so and so with 5 dinars for each one of you and if it wasn’t that I fear the Roman dictator would take it from you I would have sent more. I have also sent so-and-so to secure the release of every single one of you regardless of what the cost would be. So rejoice, and then rejoice again! As-Salām.” (Mashāri’ al-Ashwāq... p.248, and p.353 in the English translation)

- Contributing to the medical needs of the Mujāhidīn

As Shaykh ‘Abdullāh ‘Azzām - may Allāh accept him - said, “The Jihād is in need of money, and men are in need of Jihād.” Therefore, it is high time that the Muslims start to implement more vigorously the Sunnah of the noble Prophet Muhammad ﷺ regarding how he dealt with the blood and wealth of the disbelievers not protected by treaty or covenant.

He ﷺ explained,

أمرت أن أقاتل الناس حتى يشهدوا أن لا إله إلا الله، وأن محمدا رسول الله، ويقيموا الصلاة، ويؤتوا الزكاة، فإذا فعلوا ذلك عصموا مني دماءهم وأموالهم؛ إلا بحق الإسلام، وحسابهم على الله

*“I have been ordered to fight against the people until they testify that there is no deity worthy of worship except Allāh and that Muhammad is the Messenger of Allāh, establish the prayer and give the zakāh. Then, if they do that, their blood and wealth will be protected from me - except in accordance with the right of Islām. And their reckoning will be with Allāh, the Exalted.”*⁶

Likewise, he ﷺ unapologetically stated,

بعثت بالسيف بين يدي الساعة، حتى يعبد الله وحده لا شريك له، وجعل رزقي تحت ظل رمحي، وجعل الذل والصغار على من خالف أمري، ومن تشبه بقوم فهو منهم

*“I have been sent before the Hour, so that Allāh alone should be worshiped with no partners, and my provision has been placed under the shade of my spear, and subservience and humiliation have been place upon all who disobey me, and whoever imitates a people is one of them.”*⁷

This sentiment is especially important for the Muslims in the West to take heed of, as many of them are blessed with the opportunity participate in Jihād, enjoying easy access to the majority of the financial institutions,

⁶ Sahīh al-Bukhārī and Sahīh Muslim economic, media, military, and political targets of the enemies of Islām. An opportunity many of those fighting on the frontlines of the global 'War on Terror' ardently wish they had.

Therefore, O Muslim in the heartlands of the enemies of Allāh, answer the command of your Lord:

﴿فَاقْتُلُوا الْمُشْرِكِينَ حَيْثُ وَجَدْتُمُوهُمْ وَخُذُوهُمْ وَأَخْصِرُواهُمْ وَأَقْعُدُوا لَهُمْ كُلَّ مَرْصِدٍ﴾ *kill the polytheists wherever you find them and capture them and besiege them and sit in wait for them at every place of ambush.*⁸

And,

﴿أَعِدُّوا لَهُمْ مَا اسْتَطَعْتُمْ مِنْ قُوَّةٍ وَمِنْ رِبَاطِ الْخَيْلِ تُرْهِبُونَ بِهِ عَدُوَّ
اللَّهِ وَعَدُوَّكُمْ وَآخَرِينَ مِنْ دُونِهِمْ لَا تَعْلَمُونَهُمُ اللَّهُ يَعْلَمُهُمْ ۚ وَمَا تُنْفِقُوا
مِنْ شَيْءٍ فِي سَبِيلِ اللَّهِ يُوَفَّ إِلَيْكُمْ وَأَنْتُمْ لَا تُظْلَمُونَ﴾

*... terrorise the enemy of Allāh and your enemy and others besides them whom you do not know [but] whom Allāh knows. And whatever you spend in the cause of Allāh will be fully repaid to you, and you will not be wronged.*⁹

We ask Allāh the Most High make easy the path towards Jihād in His cause, and grant you every success in raising His Word to the uppermost.

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

All praises belong to Allāh, and may His Peace and Blessings be upon His final Prophet and Messenger

[TEXT OF THE SHAYKH'S FATWĀ]

All praise is due to Allāh and peace and blessings on His Messenger Muhammad ﷺ.

Islām stipulates certain conditions for taking the wealth of the disbelievers. According to our classical scholars, it becomes permissible to take the disbelievers wealth for Jihād-related purposes even if one is without an army or an Imām (leader); and even within this there are restrictions. Due to the unfamiliarity of some on this subject, I felt the need to clarify this.

The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said,

بعثت بالسيف ... وجعل رزقي تحت ظل رمحي، وجعل الذل والصغار على من خالف أمري...

*“I was sent before the hour with the sword [...] and my sustenance is under my spear, and humility and belittlement is the destiny of whoever defies my commands.”*¹⁰

¹⁰ Musnad Imām Ahmad and Jāmi' as-Sighār (2828). The full text of the narration is: The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said, “I was sent with the sword before the Hour, until Allah alone is worshipped with no associates, and my sustenance was provided to me from beneath the shade of my spear. Humiliation and disgrace has been placed upon whoever opposes me, and whoever resembles a people is one of them.”

This great hadīth reveals some important aspects about our religion:

- Muhammad ﷺ was sent with the sword: The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ and the Mujāhidīn after him carried the light of Islām to humanity by fighting in Allāh's cause.
- The greatest form of income is that of the spoils of war and the greatest profession is being a soldier (Mujāhid) in the path of Allāh. The income generated from booty taken by force from the enemies of Allāh is purer and more virtuous than income generated from being a businessman, an engineer, a physician, or a farmer, simply because that was the source of income that Allāh destined for his Messenger Muhammad ﷺ. Working as a Mujāhid is Sunnah.
- Eventually all the enemies of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ and his Ummah, would be shamed and humiliated.

It is narrated that some of the Sahābah who moved to the land of ash-Shām for Jihād began acquiring farms and cultivating them. These were fertile lands with an Abundance of water that they were not used to seeing in their native lands of al-Hijāz. When the Khalīfah ‘Umar heard that, he waited until harvest season and right before the Sahābah started harvesting their land. He then ordered that they be burnt to the ground. He then assembled the Sahābah and told them, “Farming is the role of the people of book. You should be fighting in the cause of Allāh.”¹¹ ‘Umar did not want the Sahābah to be tied down to this earth by professions that would hold them back from Jihād in the path of Allāh.

They wanted to be free from restrictions that would enslave them like the rest of humanity. The statement of ‘Umar implies that the people who are attached to this life, the people of the book, should do this menial work. But you, the Muslims, should seek your provisions by the strength of your swords. The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ worked as a shepherd and then as a businessman before Islām. However, after he received the revelation he gave that up and devoted his entire time to spreading the message of Islām. So

¹¹ Refer to al-Hikam al-Jadīrah bi'l-Idhā'ah... p.32

By the permission of Allāh, Distance of a Month's Journey Publications hope to release an English translation of this extremely beneficial work by Ibn Rajab al-Hanbalī contrary to what many people believe, the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ did not work after he became a prophet. When he made hijrah to Madīnah, his provisions were from the spoils of war.

Some Muslims today might feel uncomfortable consuming money that was seized by force from the disbelievers and would feel that income they receive as a salary or from business is a better form of income. That is not true. The best and purest form of income is booty. The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said, “...and the spoils of war are made halāl for me...”¹²

I. Ghanīmah and Fay’

These are the two types of wealth that are taken from the enemy. Following is the definition of each:

Ghanīmah is the money taken from the disbelievers by force by the strength of the mujāhidīn and in a way that raises the word of Allāh.¹³

Fay’ is what is taken from the disbelievers without fighting.¹⁴

Rulings of Ghanīmah and Fay’

After Ghanīmah is collected, one fifth of it is taken away in what is called ‘takhmīs’ which I would refer to from now on as the ‘one-fifth rule’. The rest (80%) is distributed among the fighters. There is a difference of opinion on how the one-fifth is then distributed. Some say it should be spent on Jihād while others say it should be spent on the needs of Muslims while others say a portion of it should be spent on the scholars and judges of the Muslim state.

¹² Sahīh al-Bukhārī. The word Ghanīmah (غَنِيمَة) can be translated as ‘spoils of war’, or ‘booty’

¹³ Refer to Al-Jurjanī, ibn Qudāmāh’s al-Mughnī (6/312), and ibn Taymiyyah’s as-Siyāsah ash-Sharī’ah, p.35

¹⁴ Ash-Sharh al-Kabīr by al-Maqdisī, al-Hāwī al-Kabīr (8/486), and as-Siyāsah ash-Sharī’ah, p.55

As for the money of Fay', it belongs to the Muslim treasury.

So the difference between Ghanīmah and Fay' is that four-fifths of the Ghanīmah belongs to the Mujāhidīn while none of the Fay' belongs to them.

Can Ghanīmah and Fay' be taken from the disbelievers in the West today?

To answer this question we would need to answer the following two questions first:

1. Are the nations of the West classified as Dār al-Harb (land of war), or Dār al-'Ahd (land of covenant¹⁵)?
2. If the West is Dār al-Harb, are the Muslims who live there bound by a covenant that prohibits them from harming their countries of residence?

The answer to the first question:

Firstly, there is no Islāmic leadership authorized to enter into covenants with the nations of disbelief in the present day. This is because the governments of the Muslim world have lost their legitimacy for many reasons, among them:

- Governance according to manmade laws
- Taking the disbelievers as allies
- Fighting the awliyā' of Allāh

Therefore, any agreements or treaties between the governments of the Muslim world and other parties are considered bātil (illegitimate).¹⁶

¹⁵ Dār al-Kufr (دار الكفر) - The land, or place in which the laws and governing system of Kufr are dominant and apparent, with the Kuffār being in power - is generally divided into two categories by the scholars of Fiqh (Islamic Jurisprudence):

1. Dār al-Harb (دار الحرب) - a land in which there exists is no valid treaty or covenant between these lands and the Muslims
2. Dār al-Mu'āhadah (دار المعاهدة) - A land in which there exists a valid covenant ('ahd) or peace treaty between its inhabitants (as a whole) and the Muslims. The blood, wealth and honour of the Kuffār residing in these lands are protected (impermissible) for the duration of the period of their covenant, if they faithfully uphold all of its terms and conditions.

¹⁶ The author of Al-Mughnī said, commenting on the story of the companion Abū Basīr:

Secondly, any nation that enters into war with the Muslims, or participates in invading a Muslim land has, by de facto become Dār al-Harb. Therefore, all of the Western nations that have an active participation in the occupation of Afghanistan or Iraq or any other Muslim lands¹⁷ are considered Dār al-Harb.¹⁸

The answer to the second question:

This is a critical issue and therefore would be covered in a separate paper, In shā' Allāh. However, my conclusion on this matter is that Muslims are not bound by the covenants of citizenship and visa that exist between them and nations of Dār al-Harb.

It is the consensus of our scholars that the property of the disbelievers in Dār al-Harb is halāl for the Muslims and is a legitimate target for the Mujāhidīn. Again, this is a matter of consensus so there is no need to elaborate further on this point. In the Encyclopaedia of Fiqh, it states that, "The property of the 'people of war' and their blood is halāl for the Muslims and none of that is protected. Muslims have the right to take their lives and their belongings by all available means, because they do the same to us. This is an issue of consensus among the scholars."¹⁹

"... It is allowed for the ones who enter into Islām from the disbelievers, to withdraw to an area and kill those who they are able to from the Kuffār and to take their wealth. And they are not entered into the treaty (Sulh).” [If one even exists in the first place!]

¹⁷ Such as Palestine, Chechnya, Somalia, Mali, Kashmir, the Central African Republic (CAR), Yemen, (East) Turkistan, and others.

¹⁸ In fact, the default ruling of the lands of the disbelievers is that they are classified as Dār al-Harb. This classification only changes upon them:

1. Being conquered by the Muslims who proceed to govern according to the Sharī'ah of Allāh.
2. If the leaders of such states embrace Islām and then proceed to govern according to the Sharī'ah of Allāh
3. If the leaders of such states conduct a valid treaty or covenant with the Muslims

Therefore, there does not have to be on-going hostilities against the Muslims for the disbelieving nations to be legitimate targets for the Mujāhidīn.

¹⁹ Shaykh al Islām Ibn Taymiyyah states the reason for this in his work, As-Siyāsah ash-Sharī'ah, (p.55): "... the basic rule (Asl) is that Allāh, the Most High, only created money to

In the past, Muslim armies would march into the lands of the disbelievers and would then confiscate their wealth and distribute it according to the rules of Sharī'ah: If the wealth was taken after fighting, it is Ghanīmah and if it was taken without fighting it is Fay'. Now since the modern form of Jihād is according to the guerrilla style of warfare rather than the conventional style that existed for the most part of our history, how does this affect the rulings of Ghanīmah and Fay'?

Today Jihād is more clandestine and is performed by underground networks. The question that arises is - Can these networks of Mujāhidīn use clandestine methods to appropriate wealth from the disbelievers in Dār al-Harb? And if yes, is it Fay' or Ghanīmah, or neither? Further, how is it distributed?

To the credit of our early scholars, even these issues have been answered by them and are covered in our books of Fiqh. So all praise is due to Allāh, we do not have to refer to many of the present day scholars who are either trying to appease the apostate governments of the Muslim world or are trying to appease the Jews and the Christians. If one would research our classical books of fiqh, one would find that out of the four madhhab's, the Hanafī School has covered such topics the most. This is probably because the Hanafī School was the official state madhhab for the longest period in our history compared to other schools. It therefore covers issues relating to Jihād in more detail because the foreign policy of the Islāmic state was Jihād in the path of Allāh. I would therefore start by quoting the Hanafī books of fiqh first:

The Hanafī position

An-Natīqī narrates that Imām Abū Hanīfah used to say, “If an individual enters alone into Dār al-Harb and has taken booty and there are no Muslim soldiers in that territory then it is not subjected to the one-fifth rule. That is assist in His worship. Therefore, those who disbelieve in Him permitted their selves, with which they did not worship Him, and their wealth, with which they did not seek help from to worship Him, is for His believing slaves who do worship Him, and He returned to them that which they deserve. Just as He returned to the man that which was wrongfully taken from his inheritance, even if he never had control of it before that...” (Also, in Essay regarding the Basic Rule of the Blood, Wealth, and Honour of the Disbelievers, p.21) the case if they are less than nine men. If they reach nine then they are considered a 'sarīyah' (combat group²⁰).” So according to Imām Abū Hanīfah, if the group is less than nine, what they seize is not considered as Ghanīmah and therefore they are not obligated to submit one-fifth²¹ of it to the Muslim authorities.

In al-Hidāyah by Imām al-Mirghanānī it states, “If one or two individuals enter Dār al-Harb without the permission of the *Imām*²² and they take something, then it is not subjected to the one-fifth rule.” Here the author is stating that whatever is taken from the land of war by individuals and not by an army is not subjected to the regular rules of Ghanīmah.

Az-Zayghālī in his commentary on al-Hidāyah entitled, 'Nasb ar-Rāyah fī Takhrīj Ahādīth al-Hidāyah' explains the preceding statement by saying,

This is because Ghanīmah is what is taken by force and not by means of theft or embezzlement and the rule of one-fifth only applies to Ghanīmah. Now if this individual or pair of individuals enters with the permission of the Imām then there are two opinions. The most famous is that what they seize is subjected to the one-fifth rule because the permission of the Imām means that he is obligated to protect them by reinforcements if they are endangered and thus they have a protection force and (the author of al-Hidāyah states:) “If a group who has a force enters and takes something, it is subjected to the one-fifth rule even if they didn't seek permission from the Imām.” This is because it is taken by force so it is considered Ghanīmah and the Imām is still obligated to protect them because if he doesn't then that will weaken the Muslims, unlike if only one or two persons enter then he is not obligated to protect them.

²⁰ In modern military terms, such a group is referred to as a 'squad' (consisting of 8-12 fighters), or a 'section' (consisting of 4-10 fighters).

²¹ Note: When scholars talk about the one-fifth rule it means that the money they are referring to is Ghanīmah, and not Fay'

²² Imām can be translated as leader, however it is generally used in this type of context to refer to the overall leader of the Muslims (and not a local leader)

Az-Zayghālī is considering that what is taken is treated as Ghanīmah if the individual or group of individuals has a force to protect them. This is not the case today with the Mujāhidīn since there is no Imām or Islāmic authority to offer them protection. Similar statements are made in other Hanafī references of fiqh such as al-Mabsūt and Sharh al-Sa'ir al-Kabīr both by Imām as-Sarkhasī. Therefore, the Hanafī School considers that the one-fifth that is taken out from the booty and handed over to the Amīr is in exchange of his protection. If this protection does not exist then the individuals or group of individuals are not obligated to pay anything. So if an individual takes wealth from the disbelievers in the land of war and he does not use force but takes it by means of theft or embezzlement, it is not considered Ghanīmah according to the Hanafī School. So then, what is it?

We find the answer in another Hanafī reference, al-Jawharah an-Nayirah by Abū Bakr al-‘Abbādī who states in his commentary on al-Hidāyah,

If one or two individuals enter Dār al-Harb without the permission of the Imām and they take something, then it is not subjected to the one-fifth rule, because it is not Ghanīmah, since Ghanīmah is what is taken by force and not by theft or embezzlement. However, if one or two persons enter with the permission of the Imām then there are two opinions. The famous opinion is that it is divided into five portions, four of which goes to the ones who seized it. The second opinion is that it is not divided into five portions because it was taken by means of theft. The first opinion is the strongest because since the Imām permitted them, then they have taken it under his protection and not by theft.

He continues,

If a group who has force enters and takes something, it is subjected to the one-fifth rule even if they did not seek permission from the Imām, because the group has strength and therefore what is taken by them is considered Ghanīmah. But if they are a group who doesn't have a protection force and they enter without the permission of the Imām then what they take is not considered Ghanīmah because Ghanīmah is what is taken by force and these people are similar to thieves because they steal secretly and therefore is not Ghanīmah. Therefore, in this case what each individual seizes is for him and no one has a share in it because it is considered mubāh (permitted) just like hunting or wood gathering.”

Notice here that Imām al-‘Abbādī compares this booty to hunting and wood gathering. This is because wild beasts and timber in the forest are not the ‘rightful property’ of anyone. The reasoning behind comparing booty to hunting and wood gathering is because the property, which exists in the hands of the disbelievers, is not considered rightfully theirs in our Islāmic Sharī’ah because of their disbelief and when Islām does give them the right to own it. It is an exception to the rule such as in the case of *ahl adh-Dhimma*²³ after they pay jizyah. This is why our scholars say that Allāh has called booty as Fay’ which means ‘to return’, so they say that the property of the disbelievers that does not belong to them has ‘returned’ to the believer - its ‘rightful owner.’

In as-Siyar as-Saqhir (Hanafī) the author states, “If one, two or three men from amongst the Muslims or the ahl adh-Dhimma, who have no protecting force, enter into Dār al-Harb without the permission of the Imām and they take booty and return with it to the land of Islām, then all of what they take is theirs and there is no one-fifth taken from it.”

The situation of Muslims living today in Dār al-Harb would be similar to the above-mentioned case. The Muslims have no Imām to seek permission from,

²³ Ahl adh-Dhimma (أهل الذمة): Those disbelievers living under the protection and authority of the Islamic State. They are required to pay the Jizyah whilst in a state of humiliation (as a recompense for their preference of disbelief over belief). Allāh says about them in Sūrah at-Tawbah (9:29),

﴿قَاتِلُوا الَّذِينَ لَا يُؤْمِنُونَ بِاللَّهِ وَلَا بِالْيَوْمِ الْآخِرِ وَلَا يُحَرِّمُونَ مَا حَرَّمَ اللَّهُ وَرَسُولُهُ وَلَا يَدِينُونَ دِينَ الْحَقِّ مِنَ الَّذِينَ أُوتُوا الْكِتَابَ حَتَّى يُعْطُوا الْجِزْيَةَ عَنْ يَدٍ وَهُمْ صَاغِرُونَ﴾

﴿Fight those who do not believe in Allāh or in the Last Day and who do not consider unlawful what Allāh and His Messenger have made unlawful and who do not adopt the religion of truth [i.e., Islām] from those who were given the Scripture - [fight] until they give the jizyah willingly while they are humiliated.﴾

they have no protecting force, and what they can take would be by means of theft and embezzlement. So according to the rules set by the Hanafī School, the money seized by Muslims who are in Dār al-Harb can be appropriated in its entirety by themselves. However, I would like to note that even if a Muslim today is allowed to do that, there are some points that need to be taken into consideration: The Hanafī's stated that a Muslim is 'permitted' to steal money from the disbelievers in Dār al-Harb but they did not state that there is a reward in doing so. They related that it is similar to hunting or wood gathering. In other words, it is similar to making a living using other halāl methods. However, we as Muslims should seek the wealth of the disbelievers as a form of Jihād in the path of Allāh. That would necessitate that we spend the money on the cause of Jihād and not on ourselves.

We do not want such a fatwā to be misused by Muslims who are not concerned with Jihād and are just interested in improving their own lot. The result of wide misuse of such a fatwā would cause authorities to restrict Muslims and view them with suspicion, which would eventually backfire on the ones who would truly want to serve the cause (of Allāh) through such a fatwā.²⁴

²⁴ Note: This unfortunate phenomenon has indeed been witnessed in the West, where many Muslim youth have been incarcerated for lengthy sentences as a result of the misuse of such fatāwa. Many of these youth were thieves and robbers before they embraced or began to practice Islām, and not wanting to abandon aspects from their previous lifestyle, discovered that despite embracing Islām they could continue with their former practices under the guise of Islām. It has given rise to the notion that many of the Muslim youth are gangsters in much the same way as many of the youth of the disbelievers are. Such Muslims are advised to fear Allāh, and abandon such practices if they have a negative impact on the activities of the mujāhidīn who plunder the wealth of the disbelievers for the sake of Allāh and the Jihād, which should take precedence over all else. As ibn Taymiyyah said, "The most important obligation after Īmān (belief) is the repulsion of the enemy aggressor who assaults the religion and the worldly affairs." Therefore, anything that supports the Jihād of the Ummah must take priority over any individual gains obtainable from engaging in such activity.

Some of the scholars have thus advised that when the sincere Muslims are in the act of dispossessing the disbelievers of their wealth, they conceal any indicators of their Islām to preserve the image of the Muslims (if they are operating in a place that has a reasonable opinion of the Muslims). This can also serve to mitigate any adverse repercussions from such work (i.e. the difference between Mujāhidīn being apprehended and charged as common criminals, or Mujāhidīn being apprehended and charged as terrorists). However, this should not be considered as a preventative factor, hindering Muslims from dispossessing the disbelievers of their wealth to benefit the Jihād.

In line with this advice, Shaykh Al-Islām Ibn Taymiyyah mentioned that it is permissible, and sometimes even obligatory, to imitate the infidels (or apostates) in their outward appearance, as in clothing and such, for beneficial purposes such as Jihād-related activity. He explained:

And from that which clarifies this, is that all of that which has been narrated for imitating them, was only before the Hijrah; but afterwards, it was abrogated (i.e. forbidden), because the Jews at that time did not differentiate themselves from the Muslims in hairstyle, nor in clothing, nor in symbolic (appearances) and such.

Then, the order from Allāh for differentiation and to be distinguished from the infidels in the distinct characteristics and the outer (appearances) came after (the Hijrah), as is in the Book, Sunnah, and Ijmā' – and it became completely noticeable during the Khilāfah of 'Umar ibn Al-Khattāb (may Allāh be pleased with him).

And the reason for it (being prescribed after the Hijrah), is that it is not possible to be different from them, except with the dominance and supremacy of the Dīn, such as Jihād and the implementation of the Jizyah and humiliation upon them. Therefore, when the Muslims were weak in the beginning, it was not legislated for them to differentiate themselves from them. But when the Dīn was completed and became dominant and supreme, it was legislated.

And an example of that today would be if a Muslim were in the Land of Warfare (Dār Al-Harb), or a Land of Kufr which is not one of warfare - he would not be obligated to outwardly distinguish himself from them (in appearance), due to what it might bring of harms. Rather, it could be recommended (mustahabb) for the man, or even obligatory (wājib) upon him, to share with them at times in their outward appearance - if there is a Religious benefit in doing so, such as inviting them to the Dīn, or spying on their hidden and secret affairs in order to inform the Muslims of it, or in order to repel their harm from the Muslims, and the such things which are righteous objectives.

As for the Land of Islām and Hijrah, in which Allāh made His religion dominant, and placed humiliation and Jizyah upon the infidels therein - then differentiating from them is legislated (obligated).

The opinions of the other three schools of thought

Ibn Hamām in Fath al-Qadīr says, “The madhhab of ash-Shāfi’ī, Mālik and the majority of scholars is that what an individual takes by means of theft, it is considered Ghanīmah.” He then says, “But we and Imām Ahmad - according to one of two narrations attributed to him - refuse to call it Ghanīmah, because Ghanīmah is what is taken by force and not through theft or embezzlement. And since what the thief takes is by means of deception, then this is considered as a halāl form of sustenance just like wood gathering or hunting.”

Imām al-Sarkhasī narrates that Imām ash-Shāfi’ī said, “Ghanīmah is property that the Muslims seize from the disbelievers by means of overpowering them.” Imām ash-Shāfi’ī then says, “And overpowering them includes using force openly or by deceiving them secretly since the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said that war is deception.” Therefore, according to ash-Shāfi’ī, money that is taken from the disbelievers using clandestine methods should be considered Ghanīmah even if the use of force is not involved.

In Tuhfat al-Muhtāj fī sharh al-Minhaj by Ibn Hajar al-Haythamī (from the Shāfi’ī school) he states, “Theft from Dār al-Harb is Ghanīmah.” In Al-Minhaj by an-Nawawī (Shāfi’ī), he states, “Wealth taken from Dār al-Harb by force is Ghanīmah, so is what is taken by an individual or a group by means of theft.” In Fatāwa as-Subki (Shāfi’ī) the author narrates the opinion of two of the most prominent Imām’s of the Shāfi’ī School: Imām al-Ghazālī and Imām ar-Rafī’ī. He says, “Al-Ghazālī said that if a Muslim steals money from the disbelievers then the entire amount becomes his property and the one-fifth is not taken from it. Al-Rafī’ī adopts the opinion that the thief owns four-fifths of it just like all money of Ghanīmah.”

In al-Furū’ by Ibn Muflīh (Hanbalī): “If a group or an individual - even if the individual is a slave - enter into Dār al-Harb without the permission of the Imām, then their booty is Fay’.” Even though the majority opinion among the Hanbalī School is that what is taken is Ghanīmah, the author above here mentions another opinion and that it is Fay’. It means that the entire amount needs to be handed over to the Imām to be distributed according to his discretion. Imām Ibn Taymiyyah states in al-Fatāwā that if a Muslim enters Dār al-Harb, “and kidnaps disbelievers or their children, or overpowers them in any way, then the souls and the wealth of the disbelievers are halāl for the Muslims.”

II. The issue of Ribā (usury) in Dār al-Harb

Imām al-Kasanī from the Hanafī School says, “If a Muslim or a Dhimmi enters into Dār al-Harb with a covenant and he enters with a Harbī in a transaction of Ribā or another form of illegal transactions in Islām, that is permitted according to Imām Abū Hanīfah and Muhammad.”

However, we need to keep in mind that all of the other schools of thought have agreed that taking Ribā from the ‘people of war’ in Dār al-Harb is not permitted for a Muslim. That is also the opinion of Imām Abū Yūsuf from the Hanafī School who states, “What is not allowed for a Muslim in Dār al-Islām, is not allowed for him in Dār al-Harb.”²⁵

III. In Conclusion

From the previous quotes of our early scholars, the following can be deducted:

- All of our scholars agree on the permissibility of taking away the wealth of the disbelievers in Dār al-Harb whether by means of force or by means of theft or deception.

²⁵ Note: Some Muslims living in the West today claim that since it is allowed to take interest from the disbelievers then we are allowed to finance our houses through mortgaging. Shaytān and the misguided scholars have deceived these Muslims. The Hanafī School, which these scholars quote to support their opinion only allows the Muslim to ‘take’ interest and not to ‘pay’ it. The reasoning of the Hanafī’s is that taking interest from the disbelievers is taking money that is halāl for us to start with since their lives and property are halāl for Muslims. So how can we then use such a fatwā to claim that we are allowed to pay them our money?!

- Our scholars differ on how wealth taken by means of theft and deception should be divided. The majority believes it is Ghanīmah. Therefore, one-fifth of it should be paid to the Amīr to be spent on Jihād. Alternatively, the Hanafī's consider it to be a source of income that belongs in its entirety to the ones who seized it. Finally, there is a minority opinion that it is Fay' and therefore should be distributed according to the discretion of the Amīr.

Implications on our present day work:

Every Muslim who lives in Dār al-Harb should avoid paying any of his wealth to the disbelievers whether it is in the form of taxes, duties, or fines. If a Muslim is allowed to deceive the disbelievers to appropriate their wealth then he is also allowed to deceive them to avoid paying them his wealth. Even though it is allowed to seize the property of individuals in Dār al-Harb, we suggest that Muslims avoid targeting citizens of countries where the public opinion is supportive of some of the Muslim causes. We therefore suggest that the following should be targeted:

- Government owned property
- Banks
- Global corporations
- Wealth belonging to disbelievers with known animosity towards Muslims

In the case of the United States, both the government and private citizens should be targeted. America and Americans are the Imām's of kufr in this day and age. The American people who vote for war mongering governments are intent on no good. Anyone who inflicts harm on them in any form is doing a favour to the Ummah.²⁶

Careful consideration should be given to the risk vs. benefit (i.e., maslahah) of any specific operation. Because of the very negative implications of an operation that is exposed, it is important that the benefits outweigh the risks. For Muslims who are associated with groups that work for Jihād, we recommend that the decision to involve oneself in any illegal activity to acquire money from the disbelievers be taken by the Amīr and the Shūrā (consultative body) of the jamā'ah (Islamic group). We say this because since there is a liability to the jamā'ah, the decision needs to be made by the jamā'ah. We also recommend that the decision on how to spend the money be left to the Amīr and the Shūrā. We need to mention however that if the jamā'ah adopt the view that what is seized is considered Ghanīmah, then if a percentage less than 80% is to be given to the ones who seized it, that needs to be done with the agreement of the participants of the operation. Because according to the rules of Ghanīmah they are entitled to the full 80%. The same is said if the jamā'ah follows the Hanafi opinion.

It is recommended that Muslims who are not associated with groups that work for Jihād and who acquire wealth from the disbelievers by illegal means, to donate all that money to the cause of Jihād unless if they are in need, then they can take from it accordingly but not to exceed 80%. Islāmic work cannot depend on volunteers. In order to support brothers who are willing to work full-time for Islāmic causes, their income can be taken from wealth seized from the disbelievers. This should be one of the categories in which appropriated money is spent. This is especially important with Jihād oriented groups because it is the work chosen only by the best of the best and therefore there is only a small pool of human resources that exists. Therefore, it is important to have as many brothers as possible devote their time to the work rather than spend their prime time seeking a living and only giving their spare time for the work. They should follow the Sunnah of the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ and live off the Ghanīmah. This is especially important for brothers who are in positions of leadership in their jamā'ah.

Since Jihād around the world is in dire need of financial support, we urge our brothers in the West to take it upon themselves to give this issue a priority in their plans.²⁷ Rather than the Muslims financing the Jihād from their own pockets, they should finance it from the pockets of their enemies. In the end, I would like to respond to what some weak Muslims might say that such fatāwa would “tarnish the image of Muslims in the West” and are “not good for the Da'wah”. In response to the claim that such fatāwā would “tarnish the image of Muslims in the West,” I would say:

²⁷ Shaykh ‘Abdullāh ‘Azzām said, “The Jihād is in need of money, and men are in need of Jihād.” This statement was made some thirty-odd years ago, when Jihād was only perhaps

- Since when did the West have a good image of Islām and Muslims to start with? The West has always held Islām and Muslims in contempt. Just look at Western literature and to the portrayal of Muslims in the Western media.
- The only way for them to have a good image of you is to become like them. Allāh says,

﴿وَلَنْ تَرْضَىٰ عَنْكَ الْيَهُودُ وَلَا النَّصَارَىٰ حَتَّىٰ تَتَّبِعَ مِلَّتَهُمْ﴾

*﴿The Jews and the Christians will never be pleased with you until you follow their way.﴾*²⁸

- Allāh says about His awliyā',

﴿وَلَا يَخَافُونَ لَوْمَةَ لَائِمٍ﴾

*﴿They do not fear the blame of the blamers.﴾*²⁹

Therefore you should not be concerned about what the disbelievers think of you but you should be concerned about what Allāh, His Messenger ﷺ, and the believers think of you.

- The West has been plundering our wealth for centuries. Now is the time for payback. In Shā' Allāh, the chickens will come home to roost.

well known in Afghanistan and Palestine. So how about today, in 2017, when there are active Jihādī fronts in more than a dozen Muslim lands?

²⁸ Al-Baqarah (2):120

²⁹ Al-Mā'idah (5):54

In response to the claim that such fatāwā are “not good for Da'wah”, I say,

- The best thing for Da'wah is the sword. Moreover, such fatāwa are going to support the sword. So eventually, it is good for Da'wah. When the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ was giving Da'wah in Makkah for thirteen years, only a few hundred became Muslim. When he made hijrah to Madīnah, within ten years, over a hundred thousand became Muslim. So how come his Da'wah in Madīnah was much more fruitful than his Da'wah in Makkah? That was because he was using a superior form of Da'wah in Madīnah, and that is the Da'wah of the sword.
- Jihād today is Fardh al-'Ayn (individually obligatory³⁰). It therefore supersedes Da'wah in importance, because Da'wah is Sunnah Mu'akkadah (a strongly recommended act) or Fardh al-Kifāyah (a communal obligation³¹) at most. Therefore, anything that supports Jihād should take precedence over things that support Da'wah.

Dear brothers (and sisters): Jihād heavily relies on money. In the Qur'ān, the physical Jihād is associated with Jihād with one's wealth in eight verses. In every verse but one, Jihād of the wealth preceded the physical Jihād. That is because without wealth there can be no Jihād. Our enemies have realized that. Therefore, they are ‘following the money trail’, and are trying to dry up all the sources funding ‘terrorism’.

Jihād cannot depend wholly on donations made by Muslims. The Messenger of Allāh ﷺ sent many armies for the sole purpose of raiding caravans of the disbelievers. Not only was Jihād financed by booty, but also throughout our early history, the Islāmic treasury itself was mostly dependent on income generated from Jihād. A tax called kharaj was placed on land conquered by Muslims, enslaved POWs would be sold, and the people of the book paid jizyah. All of these sources were acquired through Jihād. Zakāh and Sadaqah represented only a small portion of the income of the Muslim government.

³⁰ Fardh al-'Ayn (فرض العين): an individual obligation, the performance of which is obligatory for every individual (Muslim).

³¹ Fardh al-kifāyah (فرض الكفاية): a collective obligation, the performance of which is obligatory for the (Islamic) community as a whole: if a sufficient number fulfil the duty, the rest are relieved of it; if the duty is not performed all of the community is liable for punishment.

It is about time that we take serious steps towards securing a strong financial backing for our work rather than depending on donations.

May Allāh grant us the high status of the Mujāhidīn and forgive us all.

Jihād with the Wealth³²

“The Jihād is in need of money, and men are in need of Jihād.”

Shaykh ‘Abdullāh ‘Azzām wrote,

There is no doubt that Jihād by one's person is superior to Jihād by one's wealth. Consequently, the rich in the time of the Prophet ﷺ, were not excused from participating with their persons, such as ‘Uthmān and ‘Abdur-Rahmān Ibn ‘Awf. Because the purification of the soul and the evolution of the spirit is lifted to great heights in the midst of the battle. That is why the Prophet ﷺ advised one of his companions in these words: “...hold to Jihād, because it is the monasticism of Islām.”³³ That is why, when the Prophet ﷺ was asked,

يا رسول الله ما بال المؤمنين يفتنون في قبورهم إلا الشهيد؟ قال: كفى ببارقة السيوف
على رأسه فتنة

“Why will all of the believers be put to trial in their graves except the martyr?” He said, *“The flashing of swords above his head is sufficient trial for him.”*³⁴

³² Adapted from In Defence of the Muslim Lands, pgs.31-32

³³ Hadīth Sahīh reported by Ahmad

³⁴ Hadīth Sahīh, reported by an-Nasā’ī

Furthermore, the Prophet ﷺ warned about being preoccupied with the world away from Jihād. He once pointed to a plough and said, “It does not enter a people's homestead except that Allāh enters humiliation with it.”³⁵ Also, in a Sahīh hadīth:

إذا تبايعتم بالعينة وأختم أذناب البقر ورضيتم بالزرع وتركتم الجهاد، سلط الله عليكم ذلا، لا يترعه حتى ترجعوا إلى دينكم

“If you practice Taba’iya al-‘Ayna,³⁶ follow the tails of cows, satisfy yourselves with agriculture, and abandon Jihād, Allāh will cover you with humiliation and will not remove it until you return to your religion.”³⁷

Similarly, in the Sahīh hadīth: “Do not take Day’at, it will make you satisfied with the life of this world.”³⁸ In this hadīth the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ has listed the distractions of the world and the sources of preoccupation: agriculture, trading with interest and the con of Al-‘Ayna, animal farming, industry and craft (Day’at). To be preoccupied with these, in the time when Islām is being subjected to confrontation in the battlefield, verging on eradication is considered Harām and a tremendous sin according to the Sharī’ah.

The Jihād by one's wealth is obligatory if the mujāhidīn are in need of it, Fardh upon women and children's wealth, even if Jihād is Fardh al-Kifāyah, as ruled by Ibn Taymiyyah.³⁹ That is why it is forbidden upon the people to make savings in the time of need. Ibn Taymiyyah was asked the question: “We have only sufficient moneys to feed the starving or to fund the Jihād, which would otherwise suffer.” He answered, “We give priority to the Jihād, even if the starving must lose their lives. As in the case of the human shield, in which they are inadvertently killed by our hands, here they die by Allāh's action."⁴⁰ Al-Qurtubī said,⁴¹ "The scholars are in agreement that if any need befalls the Muslims, after they have paid out the Zakāh, they are required to spend from their own resources to take care of that need." Mālik said,⁴² "It is obligatory upon the people to pay the ransom on those taken hostage from among them, even if it exhausts their wealth. This too is agreed upon."

The protection of the religion takes precedence over the protection of individuals; the protection of individuals takes precedence over the protection of wealth. Therefore, the wealth of the rich is less sacred than the blood of Mujāhidīn. Let the rich beware and take heed of the law of Allāh concerning their wealth, while Jihād is in great need of that wealth, as is the religion of the Muslims and their countries, which are on the brink of disappearance.

The rich are drowning in their desires yet, if they could just abstain for one day from their desires, and hold back their hands from wasting money on trivialities, and instead direct it to Mujāhidīn in Afghanistan, whose feet are lacerated by the ice and who are dying from the cold. They find no food for their day nor any ammunition with which to defend their blood. I say, if the rich were to direct what they waste in one day to the Afghānī Mujāhidīn, their money, by the permission of Allāh, would help to cause a great leap forward towards victory. The major scholars, the foremost among them, the Honourable Shaykh ‘Abdul-‘Azīz bin Bāz, have passed a Fatwā which declares that directing the Zakāh to the Afghānī Mujāhidīn is of the finest deeds and the best charity.

⁴¹ Tafsīr al-Qurtubī 2/242

These were the words of Shaykh ‘Abdullāh ‘Azzām - may Allāh accept him. The concluding paragraph should be read to include, along with the Mujāhidīn in Afghanistan, those in Palestine, Yemen, the Arabian Peninsula, Syria, and Iraq. Waziristan, Pakistan, Kashmir, India, Burma, China, East Turkestan, Malaysia, Chechnya and the Caucuses, Somalia, Kenya, Sudan, and the Central African Republic (CAR). Nigeria, Mali, Algeria, the Islāmic Maghrib, and everywhere else the Mujāhidīn have raised the banner of Jihād in the cause of Allāh. In addition, those Mujāhidīn conducting special operations within the lands of the Kuffār and apostates, east or west, should also be included in the above.

Another point of benefit highlighted by some of our brothers is that some of the Muslims who participate in Jihād with the wealth that Allāh, the Sustainer, has given them sometimes put objectionable conditions on their expenditure(s). For example, a Muslim once donated $1000 to the Mujāhidīn in Shām, with the explicit condition that it must be spent on a cow.⁴³ May Allāh reward the donator of this money for His sake. However, it must be remembered that Jihād of the wealth is an obligation on all Muslims according to their capability, as such, whatever is spent should be channelled towards whatever the Jihād is most in need of at the time, and not in accordance with the desires of the spender. Therefore, it is upon the believers outside of the fields of Jihād to, after putting their trust in Allāh, trust the sincere Mujāhidīn to distribute any funds with justice and according to the immediate needs of the Jihād in their locality. Allāh and His Messenger ﷺ did not put conditions on spending for Jihād, rather the verses and Ahādīth are general, such as when He, the Sublime, says,

﴿مَثَلُ الَّذِينَ يُنْفِقُونَ أَمْوَالَهُمْ فِي سَبِيلِ اللَّهِ كَمَثَلِ حَبَّةٍ أَنْبَتَتْ سَبْعَ سَنَابِلٍ فِي كُلِّ سُنْبُلَةٍ مِائَةُ حَبَّةٍ وَاللَّهُ يُضَاعِفُ لِمَنْ يَشَاءُ وَاللَّهُ وَاسِعٌ عَلِيمٌ﴾

⁴³ Al-Hamdulillāh, at that time the Mujāhidīn in that area were not in need of meat, but rather were in need of weapons and ammunition, or rather their most pressing need was for sincere Mujāhidīn to man the frontlines and guard the defenceless Muslims behind them.

﴿The example of those who spend their wealth in the way of Allāh is like a seed [of grain] which grows seven spikes; in each spike is a hundred grains. And Allāh multiplies [His reward] for whom He wills. And Allāh is all-Encompassing and Knowing.﴾⁴⁴

Likewise, in the Sunnah the Messenger of Allāh ﷺ said,

من أنفق نفقة في سبيل الله كُتبت بسبعائة ضعف

“Whoever spends in the path of Allāh, it would be multiplied for them 700 times.”⁴⁵

In addition, Sasa’ah bin Mu’āwiyah said, “I went to Abū Dhar’s house and did not find him. I then met him coming back with a camel with water on its back for his house. I asked him, ‘Are you Abū Dhar?’ He said, ‘That’s what my family call me.’ I said, ‘Can you narrate to me something you heard from the Messenger of Allāh, may Allāh benefit me with it?’ He said, ‘The Messenger of Allāh said,

من أنفق من ماله زوجين في سبيل الله، ابتدرته حجة الجنة

“Whoever spends a pair in the cause of Allah will have the gatekeepers of Paradise rushing towards him on the Day of Judgment competing on who would be the one to invite him.”” I said, ‘What is a pair?’ He said,

فرسان منخيله أو بعيران من إبله

‘A pair of horses or a pair of camels.’⁴⁶

Therefore, we should not seek to impose unnecessary conditions on our spending for the sake of Allāh; instead, it should be sufficient that we should beg Allāh that He accepts our transaction with Him. As He, the Most High, says,

﴿إِنَّ اللَّهَ اشْتَرَىٰ مِنَ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ أَنْفُسَهُمْ وَأَمْوَالَهُمْ بِأَنَّ لَهُمُ الْجَنَّةَ ۚ يُقَاتِلُونَ فِي سَبِيلِ اللَّهِ فَيَقْتُلُونَ وَيُقْتَلُونَ ۖ وَعْدًا عَلَيْهِ حَقًّا فِي التَّوْرَةِ وَالْإِنْجِيلِ وَالْقُرْآنِ ۚ وَمَنْ أَوْفَىٰ بِعَهْدِهِ مِنَ اللَّهِ ۚ فَاسْتَبَشِّرُوا بِبَيْعِكُمُ الَّذِي بَايَعْتُمْ بِهِ ۚ وَذَٰلِكَ هُوَ الْفَوْزُ الْعَظِيمُ﴾

*Indeed, Allāh has purchased from the believers their lives and their wealth [in exchange] for that they will have Paradise. They fight in the cause of Allāh, so they kill and are killed. [It is] a true promise [binding] upon Him in the Torah and the Gospel and the Qur'ān. And who is truer to his covenant than Allāh? So rejoice in your transaction which you have contracted. And it is that which is the great attainment.*⁴⁷

In conclusion, every believer is, in addition to encouragement, in constant need of being reminded of the mighty statement of Allāh the Exalted, in which He says,

﴿هَا أَنْتُمْ هَٰؤُلَاءِ تُدْعَوْنَ لِتُنفِقُوا فِي سَبِيلِ اللَّهِ فَمِنْكُمْ مَنْ يَبْخُلُ ۚ وَمَنْ يَبْخُلْ فَإِنَّمَا يَبْخُلْ عَنِ نَفْسِهِ ۚ وَاللَّهُ الْغَنِيُّ وَأَنْتُمُ الْفُقَرَاءُ ۚ وَإِنْ تَتَوَلَّوْا يَسْتَبْدِلْ قَوْمًا غَيْرَكُمْ ثُمَّ لَا يَكُونُوا أَمْثَالَكُمْ﴾

Here you are - those invited to spend in the cause of Allāh - but among you are those who withhold [out of greed]. And whoever withholds only withholds [benefit] from himself; and Allāh is the Free of need, while you are the needy. And if you turn away [i.e., refuse], He will replace you with another people; then they will not be the likes of you.⁴⁸

May Allāh use us for His cause and not replace us. May He make easy for us the path to His ultimate pleasure, and may He reward us with martyrdom.
